

If the Morse code requirement is eliminated from the amateur license requirement, all existing "hams" will feel betrayed. Code serves a very useful purpose, just ask the existing license holders. They know best. Respectfully